HI-SPOTS

Vol. 1, No. 3
March 31, 1971

Pictured, from left to right, are Alexander Radko, U.S. Golf Association's Eastern Director, THOMAS C. MASCARO, HAHN, INC., and P. J. Boatwright, Executive Director, U. S. Golf Ass'n.

Thomas C. Mascaro, Director of Product and Market Development, has been named recipient of the 1971 Green Section Award of the United States Golf Association. The award is presented annually in recognition of distinguished service to golf through work with turfgrass.

Tom, and his brother, founded West Point Industries, developed and produced the first practical fairway and putting green aerifier. Not long afterward, Tom introduced the first vertical mower for control of grain and thatch on golf greens.

West Point Industries became part of Hahn in February, 1969, and our Hahn - West Point greensmower is the latest piece of equipment in our Commercial line.

A publication issued March, 1971, on turf management by the United States Golf Association states, "It would be difficult to imagine where golfing turf would be today without the mechanical maintenance principles pioneered by Mr. Mascaro. He has contributed much to the turfgrass world."

Congratulations, Tom!

Ballard Hacker, of Lathe Dept. #6-A, retired 3/16/71 after ten years of service. Ballard wishes to say he has enjoyed being associated with Hahn. He plans to give much more time to his hobby, which is miniature railroading. He has 1/4" scale models and has been building gradually a considerable layout for the last twenty-five years. May we wish both employees much happiness and contentment in their retirement.

It's amazing how many varieties of hunters we have here at Hahn. We have them hunting everything from two-legged dears to bear. Many interesting and funny things happen to these fellows. For instance, Delbert Hall, Machine Operator in Dept. 6, was out hunting groundhogs and spotted a hawk on the ground and decided to shoot it. He layed the rifle across the roof of his truck and sighted through the scope. At this point, the truck decided to roll a little and Del moved to keep the hawk in sight through his telescope. What he did not realize was that he was looking over the top of his camper with the telescope sight and the rifle barrel was pointing into the camper. Del fired and now has three new ventilating holes in his camper and Mr. Hawk is still enjoying life.

The Hahn All Stars, now boasting a 15 - 2 record have posted easy victories over all league competition, carrying a 16-point win margin per game.

The two biggest victories came in one week. The first was a 106 - 84 victory over the highly talented Hahn Old Timers. The All Stars were both outsized and outnumbered, but managed to build a 21-point lead (58-37) in the first half, a barrier their elders could not overcome. Gary Clark (52), and John Barnett (31) combined for a total of 83 points to pace the youngsters. Tony Jourdan's 24-point effort led the Old Timers; Gerald Seib canned 20, and Bob Barnett added 10 to the final tally.

The second big victory came over United Parcel Service (66 - 51). This victory gave Hahn a share of the league title until a play-off game is held to determine the league champion.

The Hahn powerhouse has put together a strong of 11 straight victories as they hit the road to Dixon, Kentucky to play Green Grove.

Clarence Nicholson

CLARENCE NICHOLSON retired 3/12/71, after sixteen years service with Hahn.

His career began in November, 1939, at Hercules Mfg. Co. He joined the Army, November 19, 1942, and was discharged August 31, 1945, serving in England, France, Belgium, Germany, and various locations in the U.S. He returned to Hercules and was there until they closed operations in 1951.

Clarence then worked with Bucyrus Erie until joining Hahn on March 14, 1955. "Hahn was located on Franklin Street then and I started on the assembly line. I was graduated to group leader and held that position when we moved to Keller Street and when we moved here."

Clarence became a plant guard on July 22, 1969. He said he's been working since he was fourteen years old and thinks he'll enjoy his retirement, filling his time with hunting, fishing, and gardening. He said, "Hahn has been a wonderful place to work and I have certainly enjoyed it. I'm going to enjoy retirement too. My neighbor has a real nice lake for fishing, and I'm going to try it out."

We've got a promise that Clarence will stop in and visit occasionally and are looking forward to seeing him.

THE AGE OF THE PILL.....by Rosie Roehm

Today, all of us are pill users in some way or another. Pills for heart trouble, blood pressure, arthritis, indigestion, headache, and on and on. Mama gives baby a pill for fever, for vitamins. Mama takes a pill for iron deficiency, birth control, and low thyroid activity.

More important is "pill poppin". Now you say, "Oh dear, not more 'drug abuse' lecturing." Well, yes it is. The matter of drug abuse, or use, must become of utmost concern to everyone of us, as a parent, grandparent, or young adult with a lifetime still to be lived.

The "drug habit" in reality is a money-making operation, not just a good time venture. It's a big deal now and will continue to grow. And it's a mean, mean business. It's a filtering, seething, terrible business, and causes hurt, heartache, and misery for generations yet to come.

What to do? By you and me? Plenty, and start today! First, become a family. Spend time with all your family together. And spend hours doing things together. This must not be regarded lightly. Talk to one another and listen to one another. Share everything. Especially, share love and learn to understand each other. This applies to husband to wife, parents to each and every child. And it takes thought and work to do this job of being a family. A family that loves and cares a great deal for one another and shows it.

Second, show your love -- not by gift giving and allowing freedoms and special privileges. Show your love with gentle concern and discipline. Young people need love from you. They want to be told that they cannot do this or that. And then listen to what they want to say. Another important issue to young people is trust. Keep your word on an issue. If for a reason you cannot, be sure your young people fully understand your reason why not. Hard to do? You bet! But, not impossible. Don't let drugs get a foothold in your home.

So you are asking, why the big thing about family and love? Because statistics show the majority of persons using the drugs feel, "not loved". They have no one who cares where they are, or what they do. No one who will listen to how they feel, or what they think. So, they turn to drugs -- to hide -- to get away from reality.

Don't turn your back and think yours are safe. Don't be so busy, busy, busy with all your goody-two-shoes projects, even for church, that you have no time at home for your young adults. Get busy and read those articles in the newspapers and magazines. Then, get acquainted with your young people. And love them. You will never be happier.

WILL A SECRETARY GO TO HEAVEN??

Becky Bridge, daughter of Bill Bridge, sent in the following poem for Pam Simon, Bill's secretary.

If a secretary writes a letter,
it's too long.
If she sends a postal,
it's too short.
If she doesn't send a notice,
she is lazy.
If she attends a committee meeting,
she is butting in.
If she stays away,
she is a shirker.
If she duns the members for dues,
she is insulting.
If she fails to collect the dues,
she is slipping.
If she asks for advice,
she is incompetent.
If she does not,
she is bull-headed.
If she writes her reports complete,
they are too long.
If she condenses them,
they are incomplete.
If she talks on a subject,
she is trying to run things.
If she remains quiet,
she's lost interest in the meeting.

Ashes to ashes,
Dust to dust,
If others won't do it --
The secretary must!!

Pam will be giving your dad a lot of trouble now, Becky. She shows this to him daily!
